DEVELOPMENT PLAN

Mayor Blad opened the public hearing.

Jim Anglesey, Senior Planner, stated the Pocatello Downtown Development Plan provides a guiding vision and implementation strategy for future improvement. He noted this vision aims at guiding development and future investments through the recommendation and implementation of design solutions as well as catalytic projects and policies. Mr. Anglesey added as a living document, this plan is designed in a way that is meant to be built upon and added to in the future. He noted while the premise, principles and values of the vision serve as an unchanging foundation, the components and details of the vision will evolve as ongoing public engagement, investments and community support occur. Mr. Anglesey stated this document is meant to serve as a companion to the City of Pocatello's Comprehensive Plan, the Portneuf River Vision and the Utah State University's 2018 urban design study entitled "The City of Pocatello and the Portneuf River". He added that these resources provide a unified vision for the continued revitalization of both the natural and urban ecological systems present in Pocatello and the Downtown area. Mr. Anglesey noted the implementation of this shared vision is a key to improving the quality of life in Pocatello, this includes greater environmental quality, economic success, social opportunities and an enhanced sense of belonging. He stated through the active use and implementation of these guiding documents, the assets and identity of Pocatello will be greatly enhanced in meaningful, effective and responsible ways. Mr. Anglesey reported that following a public hearing on February 23, 2022, the Planning and Zoning Commission recommended approval of the Pocatello Downtown Development Plan. He added that all public notice requirements were met.

Ms. Leeuwrik clarified the reason for using Utah State University for the 2018 report and not Idaho State University (ISU) is because ISU no longer has an architecture program and has never had a landscaping program.

In response to questions from Council, Mr. Anglesey stated that raising taxes was never discussed in creating this plan. He noted this is a guiding vision and strategic framework to guide the resurgence of Downtown Pocatello over the next 20 years. Mr. Anglesey stated that a portion of the plan gives the history of Pocatello and the indigenous people.

James Young, Pocatello resident, spoke in support of the Pocatello Downtown Development Plan. He stated the reason he invested in property Downtown was due to improvements being made.
